EDUCATIONAL WINE TASTING CLASS
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 25, 2010 @ 7:15 PM

“The Evolution Of Wine Labels”

This Class is designed to explore some of the newer, fun and funky labels we see in the market, as well as discussing classic labels and how to decipher what they are trying to tell you. What goes into coming up with labels, who is involved, and why labels can be so important, what does a label say about quality, price, value? Why do some wineries spend $20,000 on a label and others have their families sketch something out? All these elements will be discussed and analyzed during this class, as well as tasting through some very interesting wines with interesting labels.

This Educational Wine Tasting Class will be led Jeremy Overman from the Country Vintners, who has been a student of wine for many years and has traveled extensively to vineyards thought out the world. He has a great appreciation for wine and I am sure will make this class an interesting and fun filled time for all who attend. The cost is $10/person and seating is limited to 18 so reservations are required. If you are interested in attending this education class please contact us via e-mail or by telephone at the addresses shown below.
